HOMESTEAD OF DEA. JOHN FARRINGTON.

Built in 1796. Meetings were held in the large kitchen, and school in the room at the right, for many years, till the school-house was built, near by.

P R E F A C E .

In Holden, Maine, on Friday, the 24th day of August, 1877, about forty of the grandchildren of Dea. John Farrington, one of the first settlers of the town, in 1786, assembled at the home of Mrs. Nancy Hart, his only surviving child. While together the subject of a family Reunion was discussed, and an organization effected, one prominent object of which was to collect and preserve records and incidents in the history of the Farrington family. A President, Vice President and Secretary were chosen, and it was proposed to hold a Reunion on "Wrentham Hill," Holden, in Aug. 1878. A committee of Arrangements was also chosen to designate the day, issue invitations, &c.

The result of the invitations thus extended, was a gathering, Aug. 27th, 1878, of more than eighty of the family, with a few invited friends. After an interchange of greetings, and enjoying a bountiful collation, the Secretary read a brief sketch of the Ancestors for more than two-hundred years, together with some genealogical facts of the past and present. Others added reminiscences and anecdotes of the Fathers, interspersed with singing. This reunion was so much enjoyed that it was voted to make the organization permanent, and to have the meetings continued annually.

The Reunion for 1879 held at the Oliver Farrington homestead, Brewer, Aug. 28th, was equally well attended and enjoyed. It was voted to have the Family records collected and printed; and a Committee for this purpose was chosen, consisting of

DANIEL FARRINGTON, Holden, Me.

JOHN F. BLAKE, Winterport, Me.

ANNA E. FARRINGTON, Portland, Me.

Rev. C. M. BLAKE, San Francisco, Cal.

In fulfilment of this trust, your Committee hope their work may meet the approbation of all. It goes forth with the earnest desire that its circulation among the different families of the name, scattered over our broad land, may stimulate an interest, which shall result, ere long, in a complete work, embracing all of the Farrington name and Lineage in the Country.

As suggestive of sources of material for such work, we have added an Appendix, containing genealogical sketches, which we hope may prove not only interesting, but in other hands, under favorable conditions, may lead to more thorough and faithful research.

203. WALTER AMORY,⁷ b. in Bangor, April 16, 1864.

APPENDIX.

THE Farrington name dates far back in English history. First called in the old Saxon, Ferndon, signifying Fern hill. There is an ancient town called Farrington in Berks County, west of London. There is a township named Farrington in Lancaster County; and a parish of the same name in another part of England.

The name is also found among the nobility of the Kingdom. Ffarrington of Warden, and Ffarrington of Woodvale were lineal descendants of John de Ffarrington, in the time of Henry III. His will is dated 1549. The motto of his "Armorial Berings," was "Domat Omnia Virtus."

The name appears subsequently, knighted or ennobled: as Sir Anthony Farrington 1766: Sir Anthony Farrington son of Charles Farrington, was made Baronet 1818: Sir Henry Maturin Farrington, who inherited as third Baronet: Sir Henry Anthony Farrington, of Blackheath, County of Kent, fourth Baronet, Oct. 4, 1834.

In the list of passengers for New England on the ship Hopewell, London, April 1, 1635, is found the name of "Edward Ffarrington, aged 47, and his wife Eliza, 48, with their children, Sarah, 14, Matthew, 12, John, 11, Eliza, 8." These names appear in the Lynn records, "Edmund and Elizabeth." He was one of the projectors of a settlement on Long Island, 1740. And among "L. I. papers," leading the signers of a Declaration, is the name Edward Farrington, with—"his mark." He seems to have returned to Lynn, and d. Jan 2, 1671.

Matthew,² went with his father to L. I.,—there probably m. and had children,—names and number unknown. Returned to Lynn, and had;

SARAH,³ b. Feb. 13, 1658, d. Jan. 6, 1659.

WILLIAM,³ b. May 6, 1660.

SARAH,³ b. June 15, 1663.

THEOPHILUS,³ b. Aug. 13, 1666.

John,² removed to L. I. 1640; m. Eliza, probably had children there. Returned to Lynn, and d. May 2, 1666. He had

EDWARD,³ b. July 5, 1662.

JOHN,³ b. March 7, 1664.

JACOB,³ b. July 22, 1666.

A John Farrington was soldier in brave Capt. Gardner's company, and was wounded in the great battle of Dec. 19, 1675.

Matthew³ of Lynn, son of Matthew² (?) had:

SARAH,⁴ b. Feb. 1, 1676, d. 1677.

SARAH,⁴ b. Sept. 20, 1677.

MARTHA,⁴ b. May 2, 1679.

SAMUEL,⁴ b. Sept. 29, 1681.

This Matthew was freeman, 1691, at the same time with his brothers (?) Theophilus and William.

William,³ son of Matthew,² of Lynn, had a son William,⁴ b. May 16, 1674.

Edward³ of Andover son of John² has descendants in Andover, Maine.

Jacob of Andover d. 1667, leaving widow—Eliza, who m. Nov. 14, 1667, Mark Green. (?)

Thomas of L. I. may have been of the Lynn branch.

One William Farrington was in Boston in Revolutionary times, —one of the Boston Tea-party in 1773,—whose ancestor came from London.

Nathaniel,² son of John,¹ has descendants in Dedham, Mass. Lineage runs thus: Jonathan,³ b. Nov. 5, 1699; Ebenezer,⁴ b. May 13, 1734; Reuben,⁵ b. Oct. 16, 1764; Charles,⁶ b. March 5, 1807; Charles Henry,⁷ b. Oct. 18, 1834, who is Town Clerk of Dedham, —lately possessed of land which had descended to him direct from John,¹ 1646.

Elijah,³ of Daniel,² of Wrentham, has descendants in that town.

There are many of the name in Warren, Me. descended from Abner Farrington, b. in Dedham 1752, doubtless grandson of John.¹

Dr. James Farrington, b. Oct. 1791, at Conway, N. H. Educated at Fryeburg,—the son of Jeremiah who formed, with others, a settlement on the Saco river, at those towns;—grandson of Stephen, one of the first settlers of Concord,—state senator, and member of the 25th Congress.

Henry Farrington, soldier in Louisburg affair in 1746. Sergeant Thomas Farrington in the same expedition.

Amos Farrington of Lynn, m. Sarah Upham of Chelsea, Sept. 26, 1788.

The Vermont branch claim descent from Daniel² of Wrentham.

The family is widely scattered. We know of them in Maine, N. H., Vt., Mass., N. Y., Penn., Ohio, Tenn., Missouri, Iowa, Cal., Nevada and Arizona.
